<sup>8</sup> Finally, brethren, whatever things are true, whatever things are noble, whatever things are just, whatever things are pure, whatever things are lovely, whatever things are of good report, if there is any virtue and if there is anything praiseworthy—meditate on these things.

OUTLOOK

What is your outlook? The way we view the world around us has a lot to do with how we feel, how we perform our job, and how we live our lives.

Some people see only the bad or negative things of life. When you talk to them things are always bad. They have just had bad luck or they are sick or they don't have enough money. We have all seen and talked to this type of person. When we have to be around them we try to complete what is needed as quickly as possible so we will be able to get away from them and their negative attitude. They view the glass as half empty instead of half full.

Others seem always to be very positive about what is going on around them. When talking to them things are always going very well. They have just had good luck. They think things always seem to work out for them. They feel good.

This is true in the physical life and it is also true in our spiritual life. Many people are always finding something wrong with church. They do not like the singing. They think the speaker is boring and his material is not meaningful to their lives. They use this outlook to not be involved in church activities or church work. "The people involved are not organized and nothing will be accomplished", is what is said by the person with the negative outlook.

On the other hand a person who is involved in what is going on believes people will be affected by the action they take. They also look for and find good in what is going on or what is said.

The singing is good. The speaker relates material which helps them in their lives and is meaningful. The classes are interesting.

Again we ask, "What is your outlook?" How do you view the church and your life? Do you feel positive or negative? The way things work out for you depends on your outlook. We should always try to maintain a positive attitude about our lives, both physical and spiritual, as well as the church. It all depends on you.

The way we view the world around us has a lot to do with how we feel, how we perform our job, and how we live our lives.
